1.	He has beautiful colouring and his eyes are brilliant and shiny.
2.	"immediately seduced"
3.	Aunt Cleo liked the parrot's greeting because he made her feel like royalty. This tells me that Aunt Cleo enjoys being complimented which is exactly what the parrot did.
4.	It is clear that Aunt Cleo is not practical as demonstrated by her careless purchases that clearly weren't thought through. Not only does she not have time to look after the animals she buys, but she also expects others to look after them for her without consulting them beforehand. Furthermore, her justifications for purchasing the animals are not very convincing.
5.	The description suggests that the parrot was originally from a tropical place, such as a rainforest. Although he can speak in English, it seems like he is originally from a place where no humans could be found.
6.	(a) Haunted (b) The description suggests that the parrot was originally from a tropical place, such as a rainforest. Although he can speak in English, it seems like he is originally from a place where no humans could be found.

8.	• The parrot spat shells at Jamie while he slept. • He bit Jamie. • He demonstrated anger and frustration towards Jamie when Jamie was trying to teach him new words. I know that the parrot was angry because it says "this was usually a warning that the bird was about to have a temper tantrum." And finally, the name of the parrot suggests that they will never be friends as a nemesis wants to bring suffering to its counterpart.
9.	Jamie tries to take revenge on the parrot by teaching him a very difficult tongue twister. I think that he deliberately chooses sounds that he knows the parrot will have difficulty with such as the 'r' and also the 'ks'.
10.	One way in which the parrot comes across as human is the way he protests against being taught a tongue twister. His reaction is very similar to what a frustrated human might choose to do. When he hangs upside-down, he is giving up and refuses to continue the task. This is very humanlike behaviour. Furthermore, it becomes clear by the end of the passage that the parrot and the mother both click their tongues to end something that they don't wish to continue. This tells me that the parrot definitely has human characteristics
11.	This is a good name for the parrot because it shows that the parrot has bad intentions in a very quick and effective way. It creates conflict, particularly when the parrot tells Jamie that he is Jamie's friend. Also, the reader is warned that the parrot might not be a friendly character through his name.
